

Radiologist - South Australia

Dr Jones & Partners is an established doctor-owned Adelaide based practice that is seeking enthusiastic and highly skilled radiologists to join our growing team. The practice delivers high quality diagnostic and interventional radiology services across 4 large CBD private hospitals, an imaging research centre at SAHMRI, 13 metropolitan sites and 7 major regional locations.

Our doctors comprise 49 radiologists and nuclear physicians who provide general, interventional, neurological, oncology, nuclear medicine, mammography and musculoskeletal radiology services.

Dr Jones & Partners is committed to being at the leading edge with its equipment fleet that currently comprises of 11 MRI units (including three 3T, five full licenses and three partial), high end CTs (including two FLASH dual source scanner and a FORCE), breast tomosynthesis and a fleet of high quality ultrasound units.

There are opportunities currently available for both general radiologists and subspecialised radiologists in a variety of fields including musculoskeletal, breast and interventional neuroradiology. The clinics are flexible and can accommodate differing hours of work with full-time, part-time and casual options available. There is no requirement for on-call or weekend work.

All candidates must have FRANZCR and have current registration with AHPRA.

A competitive package including relocation expenses and professional development will be negotiated with successful candidates along with future opportunities for partnership. Adelaide is consistently ranked as one of the most livable cities in the world for its relaxed lifestyle, cultural events, world class wineries, pristine beaches and outdoor pursuits.
